CBSG is a partner practice of AON, a national network of community oncology practices, and offers a variety of cancer services locally beyond physician-patient appointments. Such services include infusion therapy, centralized laboratory and pathology, in-house specialty pharmacy access and at-home oral oncolytic prescription delivery, a care management program as well as patient financial counseling.

"Congratulations to Cancer and Blood Specialists of Georgia and Dr. Reddy on securing Dr. Ananthula," said AON Chief Medical Officer Stephen "Fred" Divers, MD. "Dr. Reddy joined AON late last year, and we are excited to learn that there will be an additional provider at the clinic.
