

Hematology Oncology Center Adds Xuan Huang, MD, to the Physician Team

May 16, 2024

Dr. Huang is a Board-certified medical oncologist and hematologist and is now accepting new patients.

ELYRIA, Ohio, May 16, 2024 – Hematology Oncology Center, a partner practice of American Oncology Network (AON) (Nasdaq: AONC), is excited to welcome Board-certified medical oncologist and hematologist Xuan Huang, MD, to its practice, further improving its patient care services and accessibility.

"We are honored to be making this announcement and extending a warm welcome to our newest physician, Dr. Huang," said Jay Sidloski, DO, a Board-certified medical oncologist at Hematology Oncology Center. "She brings years of experience and expertise in cancer care. By adding an additional oncologist to our team, we can better offer patients the care and treatment they need close to where they live."

Dr. Huang obtained her doctorate degree in medicine from Beijing Medical University in Beijing, China, and then a doctorate degree in philosophy from New York Medical College in Valhalla, New York. She completed an internal medicine internship and residency at New York Medical College before attending a hematology-oncology fellowship at the National Cancer Institute in Bethesda, Maryland.

"I am passionate about providing my patients with personalized care and treatment plans and look forward to serving patients who have trusted their care to Hematology Oncology Center," said Dr. Huang. "I pride myself on being an advocate for my patients. It is an honor to be a part of a compassionate team of providers who are dedicated to bringing quality cancer care to the community."

"Dr. Huang's care approach is to help patients make informed decisions about their care, truly developing an individualized treatment plan based on each patient," said Stephen "Fred" Divers, MD, chief medical officer at AON. "We are fortunate to have Dr. Huang join AON and Hematology Oncology Center."

Dr. Huang has provided patient care for over 10 years in Ohio communities and is now accepting new patients at the clinic's main location in Elyria.
